

Our Technical Support is Always Offered. Always Available. Always Free.

Mac Krauss (one of the first moisture mitigation applicators in the US) is both Master Trainer -- and technical problem solver -- for our network of approved applicators.

Bill Harrill (our concrete guru) has been writing project protocols and forensic solutions to difficult projects for 30+ years.

Dawn Parnoff manages all the ingredients necessary for successful projects and satisfied clients (the technical support, the logistics, the long-term relationships).

Joachim Bohlmann ensures AC•Tech products deliver the quality and consistency that experienced flooring contractors demand.

We've Never Let You Down Before, Have We?

Same Reliable Formula. 100% Reactive Solids.

No Fillers. No Extenders. ZERO VOC Emissions.

AC•Tech, Allied Construction Technologies Inc. is headquartered in Norfolk Virginia. We actively collaborate with AB-Polymerchemie (Germany) and Chowgule Construction Technologies (India) to develop, manufacture and support specialty coatings for construction, industrial, commercial, residential, and infrastructure markets in the US and around the world.

AC•Tech specialty coatings are backed by a 15 year labor and material warranty. We can stand behind that warranty because 1) we have products that truly perform, 2) we provide technical support during all phases of a project's execution, and 3) we work exclusively through a network of recommended applicators who have earned AC•Tech "approval" by completing our comprehensive training program.

We do not cut corners. We do not leave our customers hanging. We believe in building long-term business relationships where everyone succeeds. Reputation is Based on Performance. Yours and Ours.
